Hope for Tomorrow

Presents a Benefit Concert Featuring Lyle Hadlock

7 PM | December 6, 2014 | Nuskin Innovation Center | Provo

Benefitting the Food & Care Coalition and Reclaiming Lives

Local musician Lyle Hadlock presents a festive night of inspiring music. Hope chests made by local craftsmen will be on display at the NuSkin Innovation Center. The public is invited to view them from Nov. 25th through the evening of Dec. 6th and enter silent bids. Winning bids for the chests will be awarded at the conclusion of the concert.

Proceeds will benefit the Food & Care Coalition who serves the homeless and low-income of Utah Valley. For more information, or to purchase tickets, visit www.foodandcare.org. Purchase your tickets early as seating is limited.

Build for Hope

Hope for Tomorrow Needs Builders

We need local carpenters and wood workers to build and donate hope chests. These chests will be on display prior to the benefit concert held on Dec. 6th at the NuSkin Innovation Center. The public will have the opportunity to submit silent bids from Nov. 25th through the evening of Dec. 6th. Winners will be announced after the concert. Completed chests are due by Nov. 18th and should be delivered to 299 E. 900 S. Please call 801.373.1825 to arrange for delivery between the hours of 8:30-5:30 Monday through Friday.

All proceeds from the event will benefit the charitable efforts of the Food & Care Coalition. To purchase tickets go to www.foodandcare.org. Be sure to purchase your tickets early as seating is limited.
